If not us, who? If not now, when?

By: Dick Greb

Every day the emails come in, bringing news of the latest government boondoggles and corruption, outrages of the burgeoning police state, and warnings of impending financial collapse. Sometimes it's enough to make you want to hide away somewhere, or at least stop reading all the depressing emails for a while. But, of course, hiding won't accomplish anything. In fact, not knowing about these things only makes the situation worse. As the prophet Hosea warned, "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge."

People need to be made aware of the critical state of our liberties, and the constant pressure from global elitists to trample what's left. Unfortunately, most emailing campaigns — like short-wave and internet radio — amount to preaching to the choir, since those who care enough to be included in the distribution lists of such campaigns are already aware of what's happening in our country. It's the unknowing masses that need to be reached! But, time is short, and getting shorter, and we must educate those masses while the opportunity to turn things around still exists. So, one-on-one contact is no longer a viable option for getting the word out. And, of course, that's where Liberty Works Radio Network comes into play.

Liberty Works Radio Network has been designed to give Patriots the most viable method of awakening our fellow Americans, not only to the problems we are facing, but also to the fact that more liberty, and not more government, is the cure for what ails us. Ron Paul, in his recent article, The Crisis Is Upon Us, writes about this necessity of spreading the word about how freedom is the answer to our problems:

If more hear the message of liberty, more will join in this effort. The failure of our foreign policy, welfare system, and monetary policies and virtually all government solutions are so readily apparent, it doesn't take that much convincing. But the positive message of how freedom works and why it's possible is what is urgently needed.

As simple as this idea is, it seems too many Patriots are really missing the point of it. We don't need to send the same people more messages of Liberty, we need to send those messages of Liberty to more people! That's what Liberty Works Radio Network plans to do — broadcast Patriot-oriented talk show programming over the public airwaves, where it can be heard by millions of people, even those who don't have computers or short-wave radios. After all, everybody these days has an FM radio; most have more than one. This makes for a virtual army of potential listeners, who once they begin hearing the whole truth — rather than the controlled media's politically correct version of it — will want to join our cause and start demanding accountability from their elected representatives and the dismantling of the nightmarish swarms of their bureaucratic henchmen. As our numbers grow, so will support for LWRN; and with that additional support will come further expansion of the network. If you're not aware of Liberty Works Radio Network's plan to use non-commercial FM translators as an economical means to expand our broadcasting reach into the larger population centers, go to our web site and check out the Radio Plan.

One of the questions asked by potential supporters of LWRN is "If I join Liberty Works Radio Network Fellowship, how will I be able to listen to the Network?" This question exemplifies the misunderstanding we're trying to clear up here. LWRN isn't a subscription-based satellite network like Sirius Radio or XM, where you buy access to listen to the multitude of channels they offer. Instead, it will be a network of FM stations, in the form of low-cost translators, all broadcasting the same programming — talk shows by hosts such as Larry Becraft, Tommy Cryer, Pastor Greg Dixon, and Dave Champion. We're asking for your support, through membership in the Liberty Works Radio Network Fellowship, to bring these shows to others, not so you can listen to them yourself. In this way, it's more akin to Public Broadcasting Service (PBS), than either of the subscription radio systems mentioned above.

Another way of looking at it is the concept of paying it forward. You are paying to establish the means of providing the message of liberty to unknown others, who, when they become members, will fund the expansion of the network to spread it to still others. In this way, the message will make its way to listeners from one end of this country to the other — sea to shining sea. As long as this continues, somewhere along the line, the network will expand into your area, and you too will be able to tune into a local Liberty Works Radio Network station, and listen along with all those millions of your countrymen and women that YOU helped educate. But in the meantime, you will be exposing countless people to the information necessary to get them involved in the struggle.

As Ron Paul said, once people hear the compelling message of liberty, they will want to join in the effort — to return our nation to the land of the free, rather than what it is now becoming, the home of the slaves. As you hopefully see, your membership in the Liberty Works Radio Network Fellowship plays an important role in restoring our Constitutional Republic to the principles on which it was founded. It will be the mechanism by which subsequent groups of Patriots will be moved to take action, thereby ensuring the continuity of our restoration efforts.

And don't forget how affordable it is to get this information out on the airwaves when everyone gets involved. The cost of membership in LWRN Fellowship is only $99 a year — that's just 27¢ a day to save our country. With 5,000 members, the initial expenses for setting up the network — the satellite uplink, the primary non-commercial FM station, and the first of the FM translators — will be covered, and Liberty Works will be on the air! Given the price of membership and the number of people already involved in the Freedom Movement, it's hard to believe that 5,000 of them haven't recognized the workability of this project, and come forward to join with us in bringing it to fruition.

So, if you are one of those who are still sitting on the fence, not sure whether to become a member of the Liberty Works Radio Network Fellowship, what are you waiting for? If not you, then who will take the message of liberty to the masses of uniformed or misinformed citizens, so that they can learn what it really means to be an American? If not now, when would be a better time? Will it be next week, or next year? The longer we wait to turn around our ship of state, the farther back we have to travel. So, take action now. Become a member of LWRN Fellowship, and convince others to do the same. Do everything you can to make the network a success. Your life, and the lives of us all may truly depend on it.

Those that share our views!

They tell us, sir, that we are weak; unable to cope with so formidable an adversary. But when shall we be stronger? Will it be the next week, or the next year? Will it be when we are totally disarmed, and when a British guard shall be stationed in every house? Shall we gather strength by irresolution and inaction? Shall we acquire the means of effectual resistance by lying supinely on our backs and hugging the delusive phantom of hope, until our enemies shall have bound us hand and foot? Sir, we are not weak if we make a proper use of those means which the God of nature hath placed in our power. The millions of people, armed in the holy cause of liberty, and in such a country as that which we possess, are invincible by any force which our enemy can send against us. Besides, sir, we shall not fight our battles alone. There is a just God who presides over the destinies of nations, and who will raise up friends to fight our battles for us. The battle, sir, is not to the strong alone; it is to the vigilant, the active, the brave. Besides, sir, we have no election. If we were base enough to desire it, it is now too late to retire from the contest. There is no retreat but in submission and slavery! Our chains are forged! Their clanking may be heard on the plains of Boston! The war is inevitable--and let it come! I repeat it, sir, let it come.

It is in vain, sir, to extenuate the matter. Gentlemen may cry, Peace, Peace-- but there is no peace. The war is actually begun! The next gale that sweeps from the north will bring to our ears the clash of resounding arms! Our brethren are already in the field! Why stand we here idle? What is it that gentlemen wish? What would they have? Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take; but as for me, give me liberty or give me death!

Truly yours,
Patrick Henry

But the good news is that it need not be so bad if we do the right thing. I saw “Something Big” happening in the past 18 months on the campaign trail. I was encouraged that we are capable of waking up and doing the right thing. I have literally met thousands of high school and college kids who are quite willing to accept the challenge and responsibility of a free society and reject the cradle-to-grave welfare that is promised them by so many do-good politicians.

If more hear the message of liberty, more will join in this effort. The failure of our foreign policy, welfare system, and monetary policies and virtually all government solutions are so readily apparent, it doesn't take that much convincing. But the positive message of how freedom works and why it's possible is what is urgently needed.

What're words worth?

A recent internet search for copies of John Kotmair's book, Piercing The Illusion, brought a somewhat surprising result. It seems that some book dealers are listing copies of the book at prices considerably higher than Save-A-Patriot Fellowship originally offered them. In fact, a few are asking more than $175 per book. It may be that these premium prices are just one of the unintended consequences of the federal court's injunction against the Fellowship, which purports to prohibit SAPF from selling the book (as well as most of the rest of the materials previously offered), but, it's a shame that those who should rightly benefit from the increase — the Fellowship, and through it's educational efforts, the rest of the public — are the ones who are deprived of it. But, it may also be that in the face of an increasingly tyrannical government, people are just becoming more aware of the value of learning the truth about how we got to where we are today. If so, then there's still hope that these enlightened souls will see the benefit in supporting Liberty Works Radio Network, and bringing that truth to the rest of the country.
